U2-T1. SHAZADPUR (Glimpses of Bengal by Rabindranath Tagore)

Description

Between 1885 and 1895, Rabindranath Tagore spent extended periods in rural Bengal, overseeing his family's estates in places like Shelaidaha, Patisar, and Shazadpur (now in Bangladesh). During this time, he wrote a series of personal letters, mostly addressed to family members and close friends. These letters, later selected and translated by Tagore himself in Glimpses of Bengal, offer vivid portraits of village life, natural beauty, and human relationships in colonial Bengal.

U2-T2. Message to the Modern World by an Indian Chief (Script)Description

In 1854, Chief Seattle delivered a letter (often misrepresented as a speech) to the then-President of the United States, Franklin Pierce, following a request by the U.S. government to purchase his tribe's land for the purpose of expanding the American frontier. The context of the letter is tied to the encroachment of settlers on Native American lands and the forced relocation of tribes as part of broader U.S. government policies such as the Indian Removal Act.

U1-T1. Alphabets-Vowels and Consonants Parts of Speech-Noun, pronoun, verb, adverb, adjective, prepositions, conjunction and interjection Numbers Gender and Tense

Description

This unit introduces students to the basic structure of the Hindi language with emphasis on foundational linguistic competence. Students will learn the Hindi alphabet, including vowels and consonants, to develop correct pronunciation and script familiarity. The unit covers essential parts of speech such as nouns, pronouns, verbs, adverbs, adjectives, prepositions, conjunctions, and interjections, enabling students to understand sentence construction and grammatical usage. Instruction in numbers, gender, and tense forms helps students grasp basic grammatical agreement and sentence patterns in Hindi. Through systematic practice, this unit aims to build a strong grammatical foundation that supports basic reading, writing, and introductory conversational skills in Hindi.

U1-T1. Samakaleen Kavita Sanchay? (Collection of Poems) edited by: Dr. Sebastian K A & Dr. Deepak Kumar Gond 20 Hrs. Level of knowledge: Anal

Description

In this course utilizes the textbook Samkaaleen Kavita Sanchay to foster critical thinking and poetic analysis through a diverse range of contemporary themes. The curriculum spans historical tragedies like 'Hiroshima', environmental concerns in 'Ek Vriksh Ki Hatya', and intense political commentary in works such as 'Tisara Rasta' and 'Hanso Hanso Jaldi Hanso'. Students will explore social identity and language in 'Meri Bhasha Ke Log', confront systemic corruption in 'Varnamaala', and analyze gender dynamics and marginalized perspectives in poems like 'Striyaan', and 'Mein Geeth Gaana Chaahta Hun'. Through these readings, the course aims to enhance vocabulary and enable students to analyze poems within their specific social and political contexts while developing technical skills through digital assignments

U2-T1. Yakshagana, Kathakali, Ramleela, Krishnaleela

Description

This unit introduces students to select traditional Indian cultural and performing art forms, namely

Yakshagana, Kathakali, Ramleela, and Krishnaleela, with a focus on their historical origins, thematic concerns, performance techniques, and cultural significance. The unit examines how these art forms function as powerful mediums of storytelling rooted in Indian mythology, epics, and devotional traditions. Students will study the narrative structures, character types, costume design, makeup, music, dance movements, and symbolic gestures associated with each form. Emphasis will be given to understanding how Yakshagana and Kathakali represent regional theatrical traditions of South India, while Ramleela and Krishnaleela reflect the devotional and performative retellings of the Ramayana and the life of Lord Krishna. Through this unit, students will gain insight into the role of cultural art forms in preserving collective memory, moral values, and social traditions, and will critically appreciate their relevance in contemporary cultural and literary studies

U3-T1. Translation Practice- English to Hindi

Description

This unit focuses on developing students' practical translation skills through the translation of medium-level English prose passages into Hindi, with special emphasis on themes related to education, culture, and environmental awareness. Students will be trained to translate paragraphs that discuss the role of education in social development, the significance of cultural values and traditions, and contemporary environmental concerns such as conservation, sustainability, and ecological responsibility. The unit emphasizes accuracy, clarity, and contextual appropriateness in translation, encouraging students to maintain the original meaning, tone, and style of the source text while adapting it effectively into the target language. Attention will be given to vocabulary selection, sentence structure, idiomatic expressions, and grammatical equivalence between English and Hindi. Through guided practice, this unit aims to enhance students' linguistic competence, cultural sensitivity, and analytical understanding of translation as a meaningful academic and communicative practice.

U1-T1. 1.Sanskrit Varnamale 2. Guneetakshara 3. Origin of Letter 4. Verbs 5. Latlakara Shabda (Male and Female)

Description

This course introduces fundamental concepts in Sanskrit language learning. Sanskrit Varnamala covers the basic alphabet, including vowels (svaras) and consonants (vyanjanas), forming the foundation of pronunciation and writing. The unit on Guneetakshara explores compound letters formed by combining consonants and vowels, helping learners understand proper articulation. Origin of Letters delves into the phonetic and physiological aspects of Sanskrit sounds, highlighting how each letter is produced through specific speech organs. The Verbs unit introduces the concept of root words (dhatus), their conjugations, and usage in sentence formation, focusing on tense and subject agreement. Finally, Latlakara Shabda emphasizes the present tense forms of verbs, along with masculine and feminine noun declensions, enabling learners to form basic sentences accurately. Together, these units lay a strong grammatical foundation, essential for reading, writing, and understanding Sanskrit texts with clarity and confidence.

U2-T1. 6. Aatmanepade (Indirect Speech) 7. Akaaranta Shabda (Male) 8. Numbers 9. Question words 10. Relations

Description

The unit on Ātmanepada introduces verbs in the middle voice, commonly referred to as indirect or reflexive forms, where the action reflects upon the doer. It is essential for understanding verb conjugation beyond the active voice. Akārānta Shabda (Masculine) focuses on masculine nouns ending with ‘a ’, teaching learners their declension across different cases and numbers, which is vital for proper sentence construction. The Numbers unit presents Sanskrit numerals and their usage in counting, sentence formation, and agreements with nouns. Understanding Question Words (kaḥ, kā, kim , etc.) equips learners to ask and answer basic questions, forming an interactive language foundation. Lastly, the Relations topic introduces vocabulary related to family and kinship, helping students speak and write about their surroundings and relationships. These topics enhance vocabulary, grammar, and conversational ability, fostering deeper comprehension and practical usage of the Sanskrit language.

U3-T1. Syntax 11. Pronouns 12. Active, Passive Voice Conversion 13. Akaaranta Shabda (Female) 14. Prayoge Parivartana 15 Gendered Words

Description

This section focuses on essential grammatical structures to strengthen sentence formation in Sanskrit. Syntax teaches the rules and order of words in a sentence, enabling clarity and correctness in expression. The unit on Pronouns covers words used in place of nouns, such as aham (I), tvam (you), enhancing fluency and reducing repetition. Active and Passive Voice Conversion enables learners to transform sentences from kartari prayoga (active) to karmani prayoga (passive) and vice versa, an important skill in understanding text variations. Akārānta Shabda (Female) introduces feminine nouns ending in ‘ā’, focusing on their case-wise declension and grammatical usage. The topic Prayoge Parivartana refers to changing sentence patterns based on context or purpose, such as from imperative to interrogative or affirmative to negative. Gendered Words explains masculine, feminine, and neuter nouns, helping learners identify and apply correct agreements in sentence structure. These topics collectively enrich both written and spoken Sanskrit proficiency.

U4-T1. 16. Karakas (7) 17. Body Parts 18. Basic words for conversation (Good Morning, introduction etc). 19. Colours 20. Translation

Description

This final set of topics builds practical language skills and deepens grammatical understanding. Kārakas (7) introduces the seven syntactic roles or cases in Sanskrit—like kartā (doer), karma (object), karana (instrument), etc.—which are crucial for accurate sentence construction and meaning. The Body Parts unit teaches commonly used anatomical terms, enhancing vocabulary for everyday description and communication. Basic Words for Conversation, such as greetings (suprabhātam – good morning), self-introduction, and polite expressions, help learners use Sanskrit in simple interactions. The Colours unit adds descriptive vocabulary, allowing students to talk about appearance, nature, and objects more vividly. Lastly, Translation strengthens comprehension and writing skills by enabling learners to convert sentences between Sanskrit and their native language, reinforcing grammar and vocabulary in context. Together, these topics prepare students to use Sanskrit both accurately and confidently in practical, real-life situations and further reading.

U1-T1. Subhashithani-Barthruhari's Neethi shatakam, Selected 30 shlokas

Description

Subhashitani from Bhartrhari's Neeti Shatakam is a refined collection of didactic Sanskrit verses that reflect timeless wisdom and ethical values. This module explores 30 carefully selected shlokas that deal with practical life lessons, covering themes such as the power of knowledge, importance of humility, value of time, dangers of greed, and traits of noble versus ignoble individuals. Each verse, compact yet profound, offers moral instruction through vivid imagery and precise language. Bhartrhari's reflections are rooted in a deep understanding of human behavior and societal dynamics. By studying these verses, learners not only enhance their command of Sanskrit language and poetic expressions but also gain insights into Indian philosophical thought. These shlokas serve as mirrors to human nature, inspiring ethical living and thoughtful decision-making. The study of these subhashitas promotes critical thinking, cultural appreciation, and an enriched worldview anchored in classical Indian wisdom.

U2-T1. 1.Hiranyaka taamrachooda katha 2. Tila choorna vikraya katha 3. Shabarashookara katha 4. VaNikputra katha

Description

The selected stories from the Panchatantra —Hiranyaka-Taamrachooda Katha , Tila Choorna Vikraya Katha , Shabarashookara Katha , and Vaṇikputra Katha —are moral tales embedded with practical wisdom and clever strategies for daily life. In the Hiranyaka-Taamrachooda Katha , a mouse and a hermit bird form an unusual bond that highlights trust, mutual aid, and the impact of fear and friendship. The Tila Choorna Vikraya Katha teaches a lesson on greed and cleverness through a tale of dishonest trade. Shabarashookara Katha tells of a wild boar and a hunter, focusing on the consequences of impulsive behavior and revenge. The Vaṇikputra Katha involves a merchant's son and presents a narrative on intelligence, planning, and turning misfortune into success. Together, these stories blend animal characters and human experiences to convey sharp life lessons. Their engaging plots and rich moral layers make them relevant across generations and ideal for teaching values through storytelling.

U3-T1. sandhi prakaranam swara and vyanjana -4 each Samskrutha sambhashanaabhyasa

Description

This unit introduces students to Sandhi Prakaranam , focusing on the rules of euphonic combination in Sanskrit. It covers four types each of Swarasandhi (vowel combinations) and Vyanjanasandhi (consonant combinations), enabling learners to understand how sounds merge for fluent pronunciation and script accuracy. Additionally, Samskrutha Sambhashana Abhyasa emphasizes oral practice in simple Sanskrit conversation. Through structured dialogues and daily usage expressions, students develop confidence in speaking Sanskrit. The combined study of sandhi and spoken practice builds a strong foundation in both linguistic accuracy and communicative ability, fostering deeper engagement with the language in both textual and conversational forms.

Description

The Sweetness of Tamil (Tamilin Enimai) This topic highlights the beauty and richness of the Tamil language. It explores the melodious nature of Tamil, its deep literary heritage, cultural significance, classical value, and global presence.

When Will It Be? (Ennaalo?) A reflective theme that contemplates the future. It deals with hopes, dreams, goals, and the anticipation of when change, progress, or aspirations will come true—both individually and collectively.

World Unity (Ulaga Ottrumai) A call for global harmony and togetherness. It emphasizes the importance of peace, tolerance, cooperation among nations, cultures, religions, and languages. The theme promotes humanity and universal brotherhood.

Workers' Petition (Tholilaalar Vinnappam) This theme centers around the rights, struggles, and demands of workers. It can be framed as a plea or request to society or authorities, advocating for better working conditions, fair wages, and dignity of labor.

Human Power (Maanida Sakthi) A theme that celebrates the inner strength of humans—willpower, courage, intelligence, perseverance, and the ability to overcome challenges. It reflects on how human strength can drive social change and innovation.

The Balanced Scale (Saintha Tharasu) This symbolizes justice, fairness, and equality. The topic could explore the importance of law, ethics, and moral balance in society. It may also relate to how fairness should be upheld in personal and social relationships.

Library (Putthaga Saalai) A symbol of knowledge and enlightenment. This topic praises the importance of books, the habit of reading, and the role of libraries in shaping minds and communities. It may focus on how libraries are gateways to wisdom.

U2-T1. Kanneerum Thanneerum-by Dr.S.Sethuraman - 10 hours (All Stories)

Description

Kanneerum Thanneerum (Tears and Water) is a powerful collection of short stories by Dr. S. Sethuraman that delves into the emotional and social landscapes of ordinary people. Spanning approximately 10 hours of reading, these stories explore themes such as human suffering, resilience, poverty, injustice, love, and compassion. Each narrative is deeply rooted in reality, portraying characters from diverse backgrounds—farmers, workers, women, and the marginalized—with empathy and nuance. The title metaphorically connects “tears” (sorrow) and “water” (life), symbolizing how emotional pain and daily survival are intertwined. Sethuraman’s writing is both simple and profound, using strong imagery and subtle social critique. The stories not only reflect the harsh truths of life but also reveal moments of hope, dignity, and inner strength. Kanneerum Thanneerum is a moving literary experience that captures the essence of human struggle and spirit in a relatable, honest way.

U3-T1. Thol. Porul Adhigaram

Description

Porul Adhigaram is the third and final section of the Tolkappiyam, the earliest known Tamil grammar text attributed to Tolkappiyar. While the first two sections deal with phonology (Ezhuthu) and morphology/syntax (Sol), Porul Adhigaram explores semantics, societal structure, and the themes of classical Tamil literature. It is divided into two major parts: Akam (inner life – love, emotions, relationships) and Puram (outer life – war, heroism, ethics, generosity). This section outlines how emotions, human behavior, and social customs are expressed in poetry based on setting, mood, and context. It also classifies landscapes (tinai), symbolic elements, and ideal conduct. Porul Adhigaram forms the foundation for understanding Sangam literature and classical Tamil aesthetics. It is not just grammatical but also cultural and ethical, reflecting the values, duties, and poetic conventions of ancient Tamil society. This section makes Tolkappiyam unique among world grammars for blending linguistics with literary theory and social philosophy.

listening, speaking, reading, and writing. Mastery of these skills allows individuals to communicate ideas clearly, understand others, and engage meaningfully in social, academic, and professional contexts. Good language skills help in expressing emotions, exchanging information, and building relationships. They also enhance learning, critical thinking, and creativity. Developing strong language skills is essential for students, as it supports academic achievement across all subjects. In the workplace, effective communication boosts collaboration and productivity. Language is not just a tool for conversation—it is a medium for sharing culture, values, and knowledge. Therefore, improving language skills is key to personal growth, social interaction, and success in life. It empowers individuals to be confident, informed, and active participants in society. In short, language skill is the foundation of meaningful communication and lifelong learning.

STORIES 1 Malbe ka maalik 2 Dilli mein ek mouth 3 Mein haar gayi 4 Pita 5 Salam 6 Mousa ji 7 Tangnazar 8 Ek roomal ek anguthi ek chalni

Description

This unit introduces advanced learners of Hindi to select modern Hindi short stories that reflect complex social, political, and cultural realities of contemporary India. The prescribed texts include ‘Malbe ka Malik’ by Mohan Rakesh, which explores the trauma of Partition (Vibhajan ki Samasya), and ‘Delhi Mein Ek Maut’ by Kamleshwar, focusing on urban alienation and metropolitan tragedy (Mahanagariya Visangati). ‘Main Haar Gayi’ by Mannu Bhandari examines political consciousness and individual conflict, while ‘Salam’ by Omprakash Valmiki foregrounds Dalit experience and caste-based oppression. Pita by ‘Gyanranjan’ presents the struggle of marginalized communities (Pithiyon ka Sangharsh), and ‘Mausaji’ by Uday Prakash highlights the tension between imagination and reality (Kalpana aur Yatharth ka Dwandv). ‘Ek Rumal, Ek Anguthi, Ek Chalni’ by Amrita Pritam explores themes of incomplete love and women’s issues (Adhoori Mohabbat aur Stri Samasyayen), while ‘Tang Nazar’ by Mahendra Bhishm introduces transgender discourse (Transgender Vimarsh). Through critical reading and analysis of these narratives, the unit aims to enhance students’ interpretative skills, deepen socio-literary awareness, and develop an advanced understanding of modern Hindi prose and its engagement with contemporary issues.

U2-T1. 12 th fail, Lunch box, English- Vinglish, Dangal Queen

Description

This unit introduces students to the study of select contemporary Indian films as cultural texts, focusing on their narrative structures, themes, character development, and socio-cultural significance. The prescribed films-The Lunch Box, 12th Fail, Dangal, Queen, and English Vinglish-will be studied for their representation of everyday life, education and perseverance, gender roles, self-identity, empowerment, and social transformation. Through guided classroom discussions, students will analyze cinematic techniques such as storytelling, visual symbolism, dialogue, and characterization. The unit adopts an interactive teaching pedagogy that includes film screening, selected clip presentations, group discussions, and critical interpretation to enhance analytical and communicative skills. Students will be encouraged to relate film narratives to contemporary social realities and literary concepts. For assessment, students will be provided with options in the examination, allowing them to answer questions based on any of the prescribed films, thereby promoting critical thinking, choice-based learning, and independent interpretation.

U3-T1. Social Media Writing

Description

This unit aims to develop students' creative expression and imaginative writing skills through guided practice in various literary forms. Students will be given simple and socially relevant topics, based on contemporary social issues, and will be encouraged to respond creatively by writing a poem, short story, or creative essay, according to their choice and aptitude. Emphasis will be placed on originality of thought, clarity of expression, thematic coherence, and effective use of language. The unit seeks to foster critical awareness of social realities while enabling students to articulate personal perspectives through creative modes of writing. Through this process, students will enhance their linguistic competence, creative confidence, and ability to engage meaningfully with social issues using literary expression.

Description

Silappathigaram – Purancheri Episode & Natrinai Poems – Description (150 words):

Silappathigaram , one of the five great Tamil epics, tells the powerful tale of Kannagi. The Purancheri episode describes her arrival in Madurai, seeking justice for her wrongly executed husband, Kovalan. This part highlights her inner strength, grief, and righteous anger, ultimately leading to divine justice and moral reflection in society. It combines deep emotion with epic grandeur, suitable for six hours of focused reading or analysis.

The Sangam literature , particularly Natrinai, is a classical Tamil anthology of love poems organized by landscapes (thinai). Each landscape symbolizes a specific phase of love:

- Kurinchi (mountainous – joyful union)
- Mullai (forest – patient waiting)
- Marutham (farmland – domestic life)
- Neithal (seashore – longing)
- Paalai (desert – separation and hardship)

These selected poems (e.g., Kurinchi 1 & 393, Mullai 169 & 367) reveal emotional depth, cultural imagery, and human experiences, offering a poetic journey through ancient Tamil life and love.

U2-T1. Novel – Aathankarai Oram – By V.Iraianbu, published by NCBH ,Chennai.

Description

Aathankarai Oram (The Riverbank) is a thought-provoking Tamil novel written by Dr. V. Iraianbu and published by NCBH, Chennai. The novel explores the intricate journey of human life, using the flowing river as a powerful metaphor for time, change, and inner reflection. Set against a rural backdrop, it delves into themes such as human relationships, self-realization, and the moral dilemmas individuals face while navigating life's uncertainties. The riverbank symbolizes the threshold between choices and consequences, dreams and reality. Through simple yet profound storytelling, Iraianbu crafts characters who are emotionally layered and socially grounded. His narrative style combines literary elegance with philosophical insight, making the novel both accessible and intellectually rich. Aathankarai Oram is not just a story but a journey of introspection, encouraging readers to pause and think about the direction of their own lives. It's a deeply reflective work that resonates with readers across age groups and backgrounds.

U3-T1. – Ani Ilakkanam.

Description

Ani Ilakkanam is the study of prosody and poetic meters in classical Tamil literature. It focuses on the rhythmic and structural patterns of Tamil poetry, defining how verses are composed and measured. This branch of Tamil grammar analyzes syllable length, stresses, and the arrangement of words to create musicality and harmony in poems. Ani Ilakkanam includes rules about various metrical forms like venpa, aciriyam, and kalithurai. It plays a crucial role in preserving the traditional poetic art by guiding poets to maintain meter and sound patterns, ensuring the aesthetic quality of Tamil classical and Sangam literature.

Course Content

U1: Introduction to the Organization

Teaching Hours: (60)

Development Needs:

Global, National, Regional

Skill Focused:

Employability, Skill Development

Cross Cutting Issues:

Human Values, Professional Ethics

U1-T1. 1.1 Profile of the organization (including evolution, awards and recognition)

1.2 Vision, Mission, Goals

U2: Organizational Design and Functional Areas

Teaching Hours: (60)

Development Needs:

Global, National, Regional

Skill Focused:

Employability, Skill Development

Cross Cutting Issues:

Human Values, Professional Ethics

U2-T1. 2.1 Organization design & structure

2.2 Departments and Divisions

2.3 Product/s and Service/s

2.4 Business Model

Description

Hierarchical/flat/matrix structure (include organogram if possible)

Overview of key functional departments

Major offerings, features, target market

Revenue generation, customer acquisition, delivery mechanism

U3: Key Performance Areas (KPA's), Organizational Control and Strategies

Teaching Hours: (60)

Development Needs:

Global, National, Regional

Skill Focused:

Employability, Skill Development

Cross Cutting Issues:

Professional Ethics

U3-T1. 3.1 KPA's of the various departments

3.2 Accounting Standards & Reporting followed

3.3 HR Practices

3.4 Financial Highlights

3.5 Modes of Marketing

3.6 Integration of AI

3.7 Tax Filing & Auditing

3.8 SWOC Analysis of the Organization (Based on the intern's observation and analysis supported by facts)

COURSE NAME: QUANTITATIVE RESEARCH METHODS

COURSE CODE: COM501R-8

COURSE TYPE: Theory

TOTAL HRS: 4 Hours/Week

OFFERED PROGRAMMES:

Bachelor of Commerce (Accountancy and Taxation Honours/Honours with Research) (SEMESTER - VIII)

Bachelor of Commerce (Applied Finance and Analytics Honours/Honours with Research) (SEMESTER - VIII)

Bachelor of Commerce (Finance and Investment Honours/Honours with Research) (SEMESTER - VIII)

Bachelor of Commerce (Honours/Honours with Research) (SEMESTER - VIII)

Bachelor of Commerce (Strategic Finance Honours/Honours with Research) (SEMESTER - VIII)

Course learning Outcomes

CO1: Explain the philosophical foundations, necessity, and defining characteristics of quantitative research, and distinguish it from qualitative research

CO2: Design a basic survey framework by identifying suitable sampling methods, data collection modes, and approaches to minimize non-response bias.

CO3: Develop valid and reliable survey instruments through appropriate question design, scaling, and pretesting techniques.

CO4: Evaluate experimental designs and identify strategies to ensure validity, control variables, and derive causal inferences in business research.

CO5: Perform and interpret statistical analyses ethically, integrating quantitative findings into evidence-based business decision-making.

Sustainability Development Goals (SDG)

Decent work and economic growth, Industry, innovation and infrastructure, Partnerships for the goals

21st Century Skills

Analytical thinking, Creative thinking, Curiosity and lifelong learning, Dependability and attention to detail, Motivation and self-awareness, Technological literacy

Course Content

U1: Foundations of Quantitative Research

Teaching Hours: (6)

Development Needs:

Global

Skill Focused:

Employability, Skill Development

Cross Cutting Issues:

Professional Ethics

U1-T1. Quantitative Research -. Nature, Necessity, and Importance - Relevance and Urgency in the Data-Driven Era (ADHOGS & DVUCA) - Defining Characteristics: Scope, Objectivity, Goal, Data, and Method - Quantitative vs. Qualitative Research - Strengths and Shortcomings

U2: Introduction to Survey Research

Teaching Hours: (12)

Development Needs:

Global

Skill Focused:

Employability, Skill Development

Cross Cutting Issues:

Professional Ethics

U2-T1. Survey Research – Meaning and Purpose – When and Why Surveys Are Used – Types of Surveys (Cross-Sectional, Longitudinal) – Sampling in Survey Research (Sampling Frame, Probability & Non-probability Methods) – Non-response and Bias Reduction – Modes of Survey Data Collection (Mail, Telephone, Online, Face-to-Face) – Implementation and Ethical Considerations

U3: Advanced Considerations in Survey Research

Teaching Hours: (14)

Development Needs:

Global

Skill Focused:

Employability, Skill Development

Cross Cutting Issues:

Professional Ethics

U3-T1. Designing Good Measures – Question Design and Wording – Scales and Response Formats – Reliability and Validity of Instruments – Pre-testing and Pilot Studies – Survey Implementation and Interviewer Training – Data Preparation (Coding, Cleaning, Data Entry) – Ethical and Error Perspectives (Total Survey Error, Bias Control)

U4: Experimental Research

Teaching Hours: (12)

Development Needs:

Global

Skill Focused:

Employability, Skill Development

Cross Cutting Issues:

Professional Ethics

U4-T1. Experimental Research – Concept and Purpose – Independent and Dependent Variables – Randomization and Control – True, Quasi-, and Field Experiments – Internal and External Validity – Threats to Validity and Control Techniques – Practical Applications in Commerce and Management Contexts – Ethical Issues in Experimental Studies

U5: Data Analysis in Quantitative Research

Teaching Hours: (16)

Development Needs:

Global

Skill Focused:

Employability

Cross Cutting Issues:

Professional Ethics

U5-T1. Data Preparation – Handling Missing Data and Outliers – Testing Assumptions (Normality, Linearity, Multicollinearity) – Descriptive and Inferential Statistics (Mean, SD, t-test, ANOVA, Correlation, Regression) – Multivariate Analysis (Factor Analysis, CB-SEM, PLS-SEM) – Hypothesis Testing and Error Types (I–IV) – Effect Size and Statistical Power – Interpreting and Reporting Results – Ensuring Reproducibility and Ethical Reporting

Teaching Hours: (60)

Development Needs:

Global

Skill Focused:

Employability, Skill Development

Cross Cutting Issues:

Professional Ethics

U1-T1. Before beginning the full dissertation, candidates must submit a proposal that proves the research is novel, significant, and feasible.

Description

Content and Structure• Specific Aims: Concisely state research goals, hypotheses (if applicable), and the expected impact on management practices or commerce theory.

Research Strategy: • Significance: Explain the critical barrier in commerce/management the project addresses and how it improves existing professional knowledge.

- Innovation: Describe any novel theoretical frameworks, methodologies, or applications that challenge current business paradigms.
- Approach: Detail the methodology (e.g., quantitative, qualitative, or mixed methods) and data analysis plans.
- Timeline and Milestones (1 page): A outline of benchmarks, from data collection to the final defense.
- Preliminary Studies: Discuss any initial data or pilot studies conducted to establish the feasibility of the project.
